

Mid-level Forum O&U

Focus

The Mid-level Forum O&U (FOURMit) deals in issues such as the advanced training in both professional and personal spheres, and works actively on the design of specialist further training courses as well as on the possibilities for qualification and careers for when doctors finish training in their specialisation. The Mid-level Forum O&U is dedicated to the area of marrying together career and family life, in cooperation with the Young Forum O&U, especially regarding the development of working-time models and models for return to work after parental leave.
